

The Mysto ERECTOR

The following illustration of the Mysto Erector or cabinet which contains 20% more parts and builds 10% more models for each outfit, than any other similiar construction toy is conclusive evidence, that the Mysto Erector surpasses all other lines in finish, strength, appearance and style. It is the only line resembling real modern steel construction work. It is the only line containing the parts from which a small powerful motor can be built.

Every part is made of steel heavily nickel-plated. Each cabinet has a four colored label on the cover. Each cabinet is separably wrapped, with a two colored label on the end of the outside wrapper.

Advertising

We have contracted for large space in the leading advertising mediums, which go throughout the United States and Canada. This advertising campaign, papers and space which we will use, will be gladly furnished you on request.

Special Cabinet

We also have a special cabinet containing all the separate parts for display purposes, with a handsome profit on each individual piece.
